Description: What would you do if an orphaned day old Canada gosling appeared on your doorstep? That was the dilemma for Carol Muzik and her husband Nick as they set out to try and find the little gosling its real family and home. When weeks turned into a month they realized the little goose they named Lucy had become a part of their family. They even taught her to fly! Raising Lucy is based on the true story of raising an orphaned Canada goose to its successful return to the wild.

About the Author: Carol Muzik and her husband Nick raised an orphaned Canada gosling to its successful return to the wild. They didn't set out to raise a goose. In fact, at first they tried every day to find wild geese or a rehabilitator to help them. But when they could not find assistance, they took it upon themselves to care for Lucy. The Muziks' story is true, and fortunately has a happy ending. Because of the problems they had finding help, Carol is committed to educating children and adults on when and how to help any wild animal, if this should ever happen to them.

Carol documented their experience through photography, video, and her original illustrations. She is currently sharing Lucy's story through her award-winning short film, coloring book, and children's illustrated storybook.
